This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

TWENTY-SECOND REPORT

OF THE

Record Commissioners.

UNITED STATES DIRECT TAX OF 1798.

United States Census OF 1790.

FOR BOSTON ONLY.

LELAND·STANFORD·JVNIOR·VNIVERSITY

A REPORT

OF THE

RECORD COMMISSIONERS

OF THE

CITY OF BOSTON,

CONTAINING

THE STATISTICS OF THE UNITED STATES' DIRECT TAX OF 1798, AS ASSESSED ON BOSTON;

AND

THE NAMES OF THE INHABITANTS OF BOSTON IN 1790, AS COLLECTED FOR THE FIRST NATIONAL CENSUS.

BOSTON:
ROCKWELL AND CHURCHILL, CITY PRINTERS.
1890.

[DOCUMENT 92 — 1890.]

A REPORT

OF THE

RECORD COMMISSIONERS.

The Twenty-second Report of the Record Commissioners is composed of two documents of unusual value to conveyancers and genealogists. The first contains the returns made for Boston in accordance with the Direct Tax of 1798, levied by the United States. The second is a careful census of the town, made in 1790, supplementing and correcting the information given in the first Directory of 1789.

The Tax return is so fully compiled that the area and boundaries of every piece of land in the town is given, together with the names of the owners, occupiers, and abutters. Every one who is called upon to trace the title to real estate will appreciate the value of such an official record, which enables him to check off all his conclusions at a fixed date. The more general student will find much curious information in the valuations and in the statements respecting the buildings then standing in the town.

The act of 1798, under which these returns were made, will be given later in this note. The returns for the whole State were deposited in the Boston Custom House, where they were long buried in obscurity. About thirty-five years ago, the consent of the Collector was obtained to the transfer of the custody of these papers to the New England Historic-Genealogical Society, where they are still preserved. The Society has had the papers bound in twenty volumes, and some indexes have been made. Vol. I. begins with the north part of Maine; Boston is in Vol. IV. The returns of a few towns are missing, accidentally lost. These papers, of course, did not belong to the Custom House, but Gen. Lincoln was in charge of them, while also serving as Collector.

The Census of Boston was made in 1790, undoubtedly under the authority of the United States government, it being the first of the national decennial enumerations. The lists here printed are from the manuscript of Col. Samuel Bradford, now preserved by the New England Historic-Genealogical Society.

In Lemuel Shattuck's admirable Report on the City Census of 1845, it is stated that besides the National Census taken in 1790, 1800, 1810, 1820, 1830, and 1840, there had been two State Censuses, in 1837 and 1840, and special City Censuses in 1825 and 1835. Since that date the State ordered a Census in 1850, and then the State decennial Census was taken in 1855, 1865, 1875, and 1885.

Although we have made some citations from Shattuck's report, in the first volume of our own reports, the following tables copied from their official statements may be of service. They are copied from Shattuck's report, and from the State Census of 1885, prepared by Carroll D. Wright.

This note-book of the United States enumerator in 1790 is of great value, as it gives us the names of the inhabitants. Our first Directory was issued in 1789 and the second in 1796. This list not only fills an intermediate date, but it preserves the names of many persons who would not find a place in the Directory. The two documents will undoubtedly be of great assistance to those who are interested in the genealogies of old Boston families.

The Index, as usual, is intended to embrace every name, under the spelling of the original. The reader is therefore cautioned to search under every possible variant of the name he seeks. The only Index of Places and Subjects possible for this volume, is given in an Index of Streets, Lanes, Courts, Alleys, etc., cited in the text.

As the United States laws are not easily accessible to the general reader, a copy of those relating to this subject is appended.

For the Record Commissioners.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That the aforesaid assessments shall be made by the supervisors of the several districts within the United States respectively, and pursuant to instructions from the Secretary of the Treasury; which instructions the Secretary shall be, and hereby is authorized and required to issue to such supervisor or any of them, so soon as the valuations and enumerations directed to be made by the aforesaid act shall be completed in the state to which such supervisor belongs.

And the said tax shall become due and payable from and after the expiration of three months after the instructions aforesaid shall have been received by the supervisors respectively: Provided, That if, on making the assessments as aforesaid, it should appear that the sums so to be assessed on houses and slaves within any state will exceed the sum hereby apportioned to such state, then the supervisor shall be, and hereby is authorized and required to deduct from the sums so to be assessed on houses, such rate per centum as shall be sufficient to reduce the whole amount of the said assessments, to the sum apportioned to such state, as aforesaid.

And the list first mentioned, and receipt, shall remain in the office of the surveyor of the revenue, and shall be open to the inspection of any person who may apply to inspect the same; and the aggregate statements and receipts aforesaid, shall be transmitted to the inspector of the survey, and one of them shall be by him transmitted to the supervisor of the district.

SEC. 11. SEC. 13. And be it further enacted, That when any tax assessed on lands or houses, shall have remained unpaid for the term of one year, the collector of the collection district within which such land or houses may be situated, having first advertised the same for two months, in six different public places within the said district, and in two Gazettes in the state, if there be so many, one of which shall be the Gazette in which the laws of such state shall be published by authority if any such there be, shall proceed to sell at public sale, and under the direction of the inspector of the survey, either the dwelling-house, or so much of the tract of land, (as the case may be) as may be necessary to satisfy the taxes due thereon; together with costs and charges, not exceeding at the rate of one per centum, for each and every month the said tax shall have remained due and unpaid. And no deed shall be given in pursuance of any such sale, until the time of redemption shall have expired.

SEC. 17. And be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful for the supervisors of the respective districts, at any time, for good and sufficient cause, to dismiss or discharge each or any collector from office, and to commit the collection of any part of the said tax remaining uncollected, to a new collector; and immediately upon such dismission, and after a notification thereof, in at least two public places in the collection district, by the supervisor or the surveyor of the revenue for the district, on his behalf the powers of the collector so dismissed, shall cease and terminate; and if any collector so dismissed, shall wilfully refuse or neglect to surrender his collection list, and to render a true account of all monies collected, and to pay over the same, according to the directions of the supervisor, each and every such collector shall forfeit and pay a sum not exceeding four thousand dollars, with costs of suit, to be recovered to the use of the United States, in any court having competent jurisdiction: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to impair the responsibility of any collector, or his sureties, arising under the foregoing provisions of this act.

JONATHAN DAYTON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

THEODORE SEDGWICK,
President of the Senate, pro tempore.

Approved, July 14, 1798:

JOHN ADAMS,
President of the United States.

The United States Census of 1790 was printed in a small pamphlet, entitled, "Return of the whole number of persons within the several districts of the United States, according to 'An Act providing for the Enumeration of the Inhabitants of the United States,' passed March 1st, 1790. Printed by order of the House of Representatives. Philadelphia: printed by Joseph Gates; No. 23 South Third Street. Pp. 56."

As this pamphlet is very scarce and does not seem to have been reprinted, I have thought it best to republish the statistics relating to Maine and Massachusetts. It will be noted that Col. Samuel Bradford, whose note-book of names in Boston has fortunately been preserved, was the enumerator for eight other towns in the vicinity of Boston.

The act required the marshals of the several districts to make the census, being paid various salaries therefor; for example, two hundred dollars for Maine and three hundred for Massachusetts. They appointed all necessary deputies, who were paid one dollar for every 150 persons returned, or for a less number in sections thinly settled. The assistants were to post up copies of their returns in the two most public places in their districts, and the marshals were to file the completed returns with the clerks of their respective district courts.
